

Design Evanston

Illustrated Architecture Books

Highlights from 500 Years of Theory & Practice

Public Program & Reception Thursday, April 14 4-6pm

The UIC Library celebrates the city-wide Festival of the Architecture Book with an exhibit that commemorates the publication of the first illustrated architecture book, an edition of Vitruvius' important architectural treatise, De Architectura libri decem (Ten Books of Architecture).

The exhibit is located in the Daley Library Specials Collections and will be open March 31 through June 30, 2011. Martha Pollak, professor of art history at UIC and exhibit curator, will explain the significance of the books on display during the reception.

Daley Library Special Collections and University Archives

801 S. Morgan St., Room 3-330, Chicago, IL 60607

For complete details go to: www.1511-2011.org

Informal dinner and conversation with Design Evanston members and friends afterward at Roditys Restaurant, 222 South Halsted.

RSPV for dinner reservations only.

Jack Weiss - jw@jackweissassociates.com or 847 866 7480