Oscar Mayer House Tour 2

10am, Saturday, June 25, 2016

People have called this “the ivy house” because of the overgrown ivy and landscape elements that dominated the house for years. Join DE colleagues and neighbors for the second guided tour of this exciting restoration.

Only those 75 on the waiting list are receiving this announcement.

Designed by Hallberg & Sturm in 1901 for Charles Morgan Putnam, the home became the residence of Oscar Mayer who lived there from 1927-1965. It was purchased in 2015 by Jim Kastenholz and Scott Hargadon. They hired architect John Eifler, whose team has rehabbed projects such as the Music Box Theatre and Garfield Park Conservatory. They will be our tour guides.
